

Share SMART Product Ideas and Resources

Palos School District SMART User Conference

A wealth of knowledge about SMART products exists in your local educators – in people like you who are passionate about the products and their role in enhancing teaching and learning.

That's why we are so pleased to announce a Palos School District SMART User Conference. It's a forum that will enable Illinois educators to share ideas, approaches and best practices for using SMART products in learning environments. It will also facilitate the exchange of content and resources throughout the region.

We invite you to attend this event, where you'll have the opportunity to network with other educators, share resources and build skills. Your participation will contribute to the development of a strong community of SMART users in Illinois. You'll leave the event with new ideas for making the most of your SMART products and increasing student engagement in your classroom.

Please register online for the Palos School District SMART User Conference. Register early as space is limited.

Event Details

Where: 12700 South 104th Avenue, Palos Park, IL 60464

When: Saturday, October 15, 2011 for 8:00AM – 1:00PM (Registration starts at 8:00AM)

Hosted by: Palos School District 118

Cost: Free

Light breakfast and lunch provided

Please forward this e-mail to any educators in your district who you think would be interested in participating in this event.

I look forward to seeing you at the Palos School District SMART User Conference on October 15, 2011

Yours truly,

Deb Balayti